

National Supply in Major Role for Oil Lift

The National Supply Co. of Torrance, is playing a major role in the biggest equipment airlift in oil drilling history.

More than $1 million worth of equipment, including a large portion supplied by the National Supply Co. here, has been flown deep into the Guatemalan jungle after shipment by boat from Houston, Texas, where the drilling rig and other equipment was assembled by International Brown Drilling Co., prime contractors on the job for Ohio Oil Co.

Bowling News

The California Playmates topped the number one spot in St. Lawrence Guild's kegling loop hitting Bowl-O-Drome lanes on the Monday night schedule, six games in front of the second spot holders, the Shamrocks. Robb's Religious Arts placed third, followed by Esquire Cleaners, Alper-Plastics and the M&W Electric Motor foursome.

Mildred Blaine topped the individual season series column with her 509 and 102-611 set, while team-mate Agnes Jones held out for solo honors with her 194 and 45-239 pitch.

Team No. 5, in Wednesday night's Pacific Smelting match, racked up 42 wins to 18 losses to claim league champ trophies, five ahead of Team No. 3, holding down second.

Season series honors for the men went to J. Schwartz for his whopping 617 and 72-639 total as S. Parson and her 483 and 126-609 set topped the gals' efforts.

B. Johnson cut loose with a sizzling 248 and 22-270 single to head the high game column, while D. Milam came through with a powerful 192 and 41-233, latching onto the season's female high award.

Rome Cable Co. wound up their winter meet with the Spotters away out in front, 6½ games over the second place Cool Goofers.

Individual series high for the men, claimed by B. Brown for his 562 and 96-658 three game set while the gals high went to J. Allen and her 528 and 87-615 tallie. L. Manis pitched the season's high game, connecting for a 216 and 52-268, as the gal's high was recorded by M. Gregory, 209 and 35-244.

OUTDOORS with MEL

BY MEL SALTZMAN
HERE AND THERE

The warm weather has melted the snow off roads leading to many Inyo-Mono area lakes and the prospects for opening day trout fishing are good.

Crowley Lake area is entirely free of snow and all the June Lake loop are now free of ice. Convict and Lundy lakes are open. The Mammoth road is open as far as Twin Lakes.

The best bet for opening is Crowley as usual. Last year 10,516 fishermen caught more than 30 tons of fish out of Crowley on opening day. The average fisherman fished 6½ hours and caught six fish averaging one pound.

Bridgeport Reservoir should produce well for the opening. It will never yield the large size fish that are caught in Crowley because of the 6-month season on the lake as compared to the 3-month on Crowley.

Another example of the Department of Fish and Game's attempt to give us better fishing is the introduction of striped bass into the Colorado River. The strippers will be taken from the San Joaquin Delta area and transported to the Colorado River near Blythe by truck. Whether the fish can survive the long trip by truck and whether they can survive and reproduce in the river is not known but it is a low-cost experiment which is worth a try.

On the salt water scene, if you hope to catch those bluefin

Dodger Doings

By Mike Callas Jr.

For many years prior to the advent of major league baseball in Los Angeles, motion picture people were seen at Stars or Angel games mostly if the contest was for charity. However, like most of us, they flock to big time ball games. The following names were seen in attendance at one or more of the games played by the Dodgers in their home stand concluded last night.

MILTON BERLE smokes and chews at least a half-box of pure Havanas cheering for the L.A. team. LAUREN BACALL makes with facial expressions the envy of most directors at each crack of a Dodger bat. JACK BENNY sitting on a "concrete" box between home plate and first base, helps contribute to Danny Goodman's Dodger concession take by munching on peanuts and hot dogs. JERRY LEWIS' antics more funny behind first base than any rehearsed or unrehearsed show this viewer has ever witnessed. GILBERT ROLAND, alone and tense, seemingly waiting for the start of a bullfight in T.J. rather than the start of a baseball game. JOHN BROMFIELD, TV's "Sheriff of Cochise," without benefit of guns or station wagon, looking as happy as when he calls for his paycheck after each "Cochise" episode. DANNY KAYE (see cut below) attired in garb associated with fishing or hunting, comes to game early so he can watch both teams during batting practice drills. JEFF CHANDLER, the Giants' number one Los Angeles fan, booing the Dodgers and cheering the Giants, and sitting just behind the Dodger dugout at that!

tuna that are in the Catalina and San Clemente channel, you had better use a light line of about 12-pound test and a small size 6 or 8 hook. This is about the only way these fish are being hooked and is the main reason why so few are taken every year.

Locally, the barracuda, bonita, halibut and bass continue to dominate the fish catch with a few yellowtail taken. The islands have been fair for yellowtails with every skipper reporting that any day they could break open into the best fish counts seen in many years. Re-
